Communion Preparation

Tracey shares a poem by Slats Toole

...and when I have lost sight of YOU
the one place I know I can find You is here.

At the table.

...and I

I am perennially a child here taking bites that are too big for me to handle

sneaking second helpings

crawling underneath the Table and wrapping myself around its legs or starring up at its under belly

or see it

to see You

in a new way to see the parts of the Table that others don't think about maybe,

if we are the stewards

I am here to be the steward of the Underside of the Table.

That mischievous little kid who says,

“come here! Look at this! You won't believe it!”

as we all crowd together.

As You join us and laugh with us and share a feast with us.

Share your love of Christ and worship. Sign up to prepare for Communion.

Even if you have not done it before—we will help you out and show you what's at the table. Leave your name and number and we will give you a call.

Tracey Burke and Denise Mueller

Greetings Everyone.

Lent is a season of preparation. It begins with Ash Wednesday (March 6 this year) concluding on Easter Sunday, 40 days excluding Sundays. This 40 day period is a reminder of the journey of the Children of Israel from their captivity in Egypt to the Promised Land. It is also reflective of the 40 days Jesus spent in the wilderness where he was tempted by the devil. Both images are instructive for me as what we should do spiritually during this period of time as we prepare for the resurrection of our Lord on Easter Sunday.

The Exodus. Originally, the children of Jacob had made their way to Egypt as a way to survive the severe famine that had captured the land of Palestine. Joseph, the son who had been sold into captivity and risen to a position of power, had responded to their need and welcomed them into his adopted homeland. Their lives were spared and became blessed (Genesis 37, 39-50). They stayed in Egypt for over 400 years.

But, what had been a blessing became a bondage. After an extended period, a new king came into power over Egypt who forgot his history and the role the Israelites had played. He became frightened and chose to make slaves out of the Israelites (Exodus 1:8ff). For upwards of two centuries the captivity of the Israelites grew. The Exodus was their journey of moving from bondage to blessing once again.

If we have areas of bondage in our lives, Lent can be a time where we intentionally address those areas and begin to move toward the blessings God desires for his children. Often this growth can be accompanied by giving up that which is destructive (for instance, a bad habit such as too much candy, or smoking, or swearing, etc.). It can also be aided by taking on and building a new, constructive habit to replace the old (time reading God's word, prayer, meditation, etc.). The goal remains the same: move from bondage to blessing.

Maybe this is why the temptation of Jesus is such a great example for the Season of Lent. I know of no bad habits that Jesus had to replace with something good, but, he did practice the constructive spiritual discipline of fasting during his 40 days in the wilderness (Luke 4:1-13). During these 40 days he also seems to have learned the spiritual discipline of prayer. Often we think of prayer as talking with God. But prayer is also learning to listen for God and then to God. The text simply says, he was "led by the Spirit in the wilderness" (4:1). For me, implicit to being led is learning to listen to the Spirit's voice and develop obedience of the heart. It was during this spiritual development that he grew in strength and focus so that when the time of greatest vulnerability came, he was able to remain true to the will of the Father. This skill stayed with him throughout his ministry and all the way through Gethsemane.

So, how about you? On the one hand, what bondage might you be called to let go of this Lenten Season? On the other hand, what spiritual discipline are you called upon to develop?

Take some time and ask God what God would have you do. Write it down. Put it in your Bible or some other place where you will remember to look at it regularly. Take your calendar and make an appointment with you and God to do the work he has called you to do. Make this time of Lent a time for you to grow spiritually, closer to your Lord, better prepared to serve.

Walking with you,
through Lent to the cross,
from the cross to the grave,
from the grave to the open tomb.

Pastor Paul

Welcome to the month that everyone is Irish! While I was looking for ideas for the Christian Education board I came across a poem comparing the Trinity to the shamrock. I thought it was fitting for this months newsletter thought.

Just like the leaves on each shamrock I see,
There are three parts to the Holy Trinity.
First is God the Father
Then Jesus His only Son,
And the Holy Spirit as One.

I have not ever heard the poem before, but I had heard of the comparison of the Holy Spirit and the shamrock. The first recorded use of the shamrock to explain the Trinity was credited to Saint Patrick. He used it in his mission work in Ireland. Which makes sense because the clover is all over Ireland.

If the three leaf clover symbolizes the Trinity, what does the four leaf clover mean? I have been thinking about this for the past couple of days. The belief, at the time, was the four leaf clover will warn off evil and bring good luck.

I had a thought, does the four leaf clover represent our faith just as much as the three leaf clover?

Think about it. When we enter into our relationship with the Lord, it isn't just Jesus, God, or Holy Spirit. I enter into the relationship with the whole Trinity. Why don't we think of ourselves as the fourth leaf? We invite Jesus, and in connection the Trinity, into our lives. We are transformed. We have this opportunity to grow in our love and understanding of someone who loves us unconditionally. God knows all the hairs on our head and has plans for us. He will forgive us for all the crazy stuff that we do. We are transformed into something far greater than when we are alone.

The other thing that I have noticed over my life, is that you hardly ever find a clover by itself. For clovers to be healthy and vibrant, they needs a group. A little clover reproduction lesson. The clover can grow from a seed, the little white flower turns to seed, or it can shoot off a strong root of another plant. But just like a clover, to grow strong we have to live in a community of believers. We need to grow our roots deep, so that we can go out into the world to spread the love of the Lord. We have church, Bible study, missions, camp, and fellowship to come together and nourish each other.

When you walk past a field, lawn, or grouping of clover do you still look for the lucky four leaf clover? Do you ever think that when God looks down on us, He sees a field of four leaf clovers and He stops to look for the three leaf clovers? Does He ponder on who He can send to make a four leaf clover?

~Let the Shamrock serve as a reminder to thee: of God's perfect presence in His Holy Trinity.~
